

Dr Voo in a group photo with guests and the village representatives.

UMS students in Marudu outreach programme

DE 16.11.2019 13
KOTA MARUDU: Some 33 students of a Social Work Programme from the Psychology and Education Faculty (FPP), Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS), made the “Mahasiswa Perintis Komuniti Sejahtera” community programme a success, recently.

It was held in Kg Marak Parak, here.

Its chief Dr Peter Voo said the programme aimed to inculcate a lifelong culture of pursuing knowledge within the community, particularly the villagers of Kg Marak Parak.

“Through this programme, it is hoped that the young people in this village will be able to advance their education.”

Tandek Community Development Supervisor Jamil Majingkin thanked UMS for its commitment and efforts in running the social work program at the village.

“Such programme can have a positive impact not only on the people of Marak Parak but can also be extended to other villages in Kota Marudu in the future,” he said.

Also present at the event were Marak Parak Village Chief Motis Budan, Village Community Management Council (MPKK) Jenny Elda-Egul, Social Work Program Lecturer Wanda Kiyah George Albert and Program Director Kugan Singh.