

WORLD AIDS DAY

DECEMBER 1 SEMINAR

World AIDS Day is celebrated on December 1 each year since 1988 all around the world. It has become one of the most recognized international health days and a key opportunity to raise awareness, commemorate those who have passed on, and celebrate victories such as increased access to treatment and prevention services. In conjunction with that, on 5th December 2012, there was a seminar on Zero New HIV Infection which was held at the Main Auditorium, Block B Level 3, at the School of Medicine UMS. This half-day seminar was organized by the Department of Biomedical Sciences and Therapeutics. The general objective of this seminar is to increase awareness and improve education about HIV and AIDS. Speakers for this programme were Prof Dr Mohamad Salih Falah and AP Dr Tin Sabai Aung. Others speaker from Queen Elizabeth Hospital was Dr Timothy William. The seminar was officiated by the Deputy Dean of Postgraduate Studies, Dr Freddie Robinson. At the end of the workshop, there were the discussions regarding the latest news on the diagnosis and treatment of the disease.
