TUESDAY, 25 NOVEMBER – In keeping with the principles of being patient and diligent when performing each task, a graduate from a struggling family can now breathe a sigh of relief as he had successfully completed his Bachelor of Arts (Hons.) in Creative Arts at the 16th Universiti Malaysia Sabah Convocation Ceremony.

Originated from Machang, Kelantan, Muhammad Fakhruallah Musa said the success was a gift for his parents.

According to him, his parents had hearing and speech impairment.

“Their persistence impressed me and they never made these hardships as a barrier in ensuring that all of us got educated,” added the 9th of 13 siblings.

Muhammad Fakhruallah who aspired to be a writer and educator also shared his experiences in studying arts in Sabah while still an undergrad.

“The opportunity to study on the uniqueness of the local art and literature in Sabah is my fondest memories while still in UMS,” he told Chancellery media.
