THURSDAY, 7 AUGUST – The National Film Development Corporation Malaysia (FINAS) and Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) once again collaborated in organising an Advanced Video Camera Techniques from 4 to 8 August 2014 at the Che Zulkarnain Laboratory, Faculty of Humanities, Arts and Heritage (FKSW) UMS.

The five-day workshop was attended by UMS students and film industry players in Sabah, conducted by well-known director of cinematography and videography in Malaysia, Che Muda Redzuan.

According to FKSW film lecturer, Dr. Zairul Anuar Md Dawam, the workshop aimed to enhance the practical knowledge of the techniques of handling a video camera at an advance stage.

“Participants will be exposed to the concept of visual, lighting and contra, camera movements and the use of various types of lenses and filters,” he explained when met by Chancellery Media.

He added that the both sides would organise a series of workshops again this year such as Video Clip Production Workshop, Lighting Workshop and Directing Workshop. – CD (fl)
