WEDNESDAY, 21 JANUARY – In appreciation of the dedicated commitment of its academic and non-academic staff, the Welfare and Recreation Club of the Faculty of Sustainable Agriculture will organise its Family Day 2015 scheduled for next month.

The programme which will be the first, aims to foster better relationship among its employees besides appreciating their hardwork and continuous support.

According to the Secretary of the programme, Jelson Ationg, about 60 employees along with their families will be joining the programme which will be held by the lakeside of the campus.

According to him, among the activities planned includes aerobics, karaoke and telematch.

“There will also be lucky draws with the grand prize being an LCD television set,” he said when contacted by Media.

FPL Family Day 2015 will be held on 7 February and will be officiated by the Dean of the Faculty, Prof. Dr. Wan Mohamad Wan Othman. – ZMD (fl)
