

In Mourning: UMS Final Tribute to the late Ng Shi Ing

Published: Thursday, 21 August 2014 14:35 | Print | Hits: 1835

Share 0

Recommend Share 0

Tweet

Share G+ Share 0

THURSDAY, 21 AUGUST – Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) will be flying its flag at half-mast throughout its JFPIU and its campus grounds on the National Day of Mourning tomorrow.

In line with that, all programmes at KKFM, the campus radio station will also be suspended and replaced with Quranic recitations and religious programmes.

In honour of the arrival of the remains of victims of the MH17 tragedy, all UMS staff are also urged to wear dark coloured clothing instead of bright or bold coloured.

In addition, the Faculty of Psychology and Education (FPP) UMS will be organising a Mourning and Final Tribute to its lecturer, the late Ng Shi Ing who was involved in the MH17 fatality, at the Mini Auditorium, Education block of the faculty.

All UMS community are invited to the ceremony which is expected to commence at 9.20 am. – ZMD (fl)

Media and Citra Division
Chancellery Department