THURSDAY, 28 JULY – Vice-Chancellor of Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS), Professor Datuk Dr. Mohd Harun Abdullah always emphasises on teamwork, discipline and harmony in the workplace to ensure UMS continue to move forward.

He said, he did not want factionalism exists in UMS as this was not only a bad habit and a hindrance to having close working relationship with colleagues but also impedes the university's efforts to attain success.

“Knowledge is the basis to all progress and achievements of an organisation, and I believe the positive attitude which I mentioned earlier would enable UMS' direction be realised,” he said.

Datuk Harun said the university not only produce intelligent individuals, but more importantly produce Malaysians who live in unity harmoniously in their diversity.

“We must also have collaborations with the local, national and international industry players,” he added.

He said this when asked to comment during an exclusive interview with the Borneo Post at his office recently on his expectations in relations to bringing UMS in achieving success,. – SS (fl)
