KOTA KINABALU: Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) has sealed a collaboration with three education institutes from China through a recent Letter of Intention (LoI) signing.

The three institutes are Beihua University, Jilin Agricultural Science and Technology University and Jilin Institute of Chemical Technology.

According to UMS Vice-

Chancellor Prof Datuk Dr Kasim Mansor, the cooperation is a collective effort in advancing knowledge and dealing with global challenges that can make an impression on everyone.

"By combining expertise and resources, we are able to face complex issues, create innovative solutions and give a meaningful impression to the community," he said during a visit by the China universities' delegation at UMS recently. Kasim said the collaboration will not only enrich the academic community but also contribute to greater scientific progress on a global scale.

"It is through this meaningful alliance that we can cultivate a generation of talented researchers and leaders who will shape the future with their passion and dedication," he said.

At the signing ceremony of the LoI, UMS was represented by Kasim, while Jilin Agricultural Science and Technology University was represented by its president, Li Qiyu.

Beihua University was represented by its vice-president Shin Junyo, while Jilin Institute of Chemical Technology was represented by Professor Lifeng Cai.
