

Over 300 from all over world for UMS Food Science Conference

DE 25-03-2012 5

KOTA KINABALU: Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS), through the School of Food Science and Nutrition, will hold an International Conference of Food Science and Nutrition 2012 (ICFSN 2012) on April 2-4.

This three-day conference would be held at the Pacific Sutera Hotel here with the theme "Traditional Resources: Scientific Approaches Towards Quality Foods."

This conference will focus on four main topics of Natural Products and Innovative Food Processing, Food Safety and Quality, Nutrition and Food Security and Food of Anthropology and Gastronomy.

The organisation of the conference, among others, aims to provide information-sharing platform in the field of Food Science and Technology, Nutrition, and Food Service Management through the emphasis on new ideas and innovative methods for health and wealth generation.

So far, a total of 311 participants have confirmed attendance comprising 192 participants from Malaysia and 119 international participants from Australia, New Zealand, the United States, United Kingdom, Germany, Austria, Korea, Mainland India, the Middle East, African Continent, China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, in addition to the Asean countries.

Any queries or further information on the conference which is being co-organised with the Malaysian Institute of Food Technology (MIFT) and IUFoST are available through the conference website or email http://www.ums.edu.my/conferences/ICFSN icfsn2012 @ gmail. com.