KOTA KINABALU: The 4th International Mobility Seminar, themed "Innovative Strategies for Organizational Success: Integrating Emotional Dynamics, Knowledge Management, and Financial Acumen," saw a confluence of academic brilliance and strategic insights, drawing over 60 delegates from Universitas Borneo Tarakan (UBT), Indonesia.

The event, hosted by Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) on May 28, was marked by thought-provoking discussions and impactful presentations.

The seminar commenced with a warm welcoming speech by Associate Professor Dr Mohd Rahimie Abd Karim, Dean of the Faculty of Business, Economics, and Accountancy at UMS.

Dr Rahimie expressed his delight at hosting such a distinguished gathering and emphasized the importance of international collaboration in advancing academic and organizational excellence.

Dr Syhuran, Dean of the Economics School at UBT, reciprocated the warm welcome, expressing gratitude for the hospitality extended by UMS. He reflected on the fruitful visits since the previous year and conveyed UBT's eagerness to continue this enriching exchange in the future.

Main topics including Harnessing Knowledge Management for Innovation and Organizational Success by Dr Nurul Hidayat, Enhancing Public Service Financial Management: Strategies for Local and Regional Governance by Ferica Christianawati Putri, and Identifying the Appropriate Economic Metric Method by Agus Tri Darmawanto.

The presentations were followed by a dynamic questions and answers session, where attendees engaged with the speakers, deepening their understanding of the discussed topics.

On the second day, the seminar extended beyond academic discussions as over 40 postgraduate students participated in an international community service event at Our Land Eco Farm in Tuaran. This visit allowed students to experience eco-farming concepts firsthand, highlighting the importance of sustainable agricultural practices.

Dr Noor Fzinda Fabeil, Deputy Dean of Postgraduate and Student Affairs at UMS, praised the seminar's comprehensive approach and its potential impact on both academia and industry.

She remarked, "The insights shared today are invaluable for our postgraduate students and faculty. These presentations not only provide cutting-edge knowledge but also practical strategies that can be implemented to foster innovation, financial integrity, and effective decision-making within organizations. Such international collaborations are vital in preparing our students for the global challenges they will face in their careers."

The seminar's presentations collectively offered a robust framework for integrating knowledge management, financial acumen, and economic metrics into organizational strategies. Attendees gained a wealth of knowledge and practical tools to enhance their professional environments and drive sustained success and innovation.

The seminar was also attended by more than 70 staff from UMS and UBT.
