KOTA KINABALU: The public is invited to attend the 2025 Malaysia Day Exhibition at the Sabah State Archives Department from September 9 to 13.

The Assistant Curator of the Sabah State Museum Department, Caroline Mosigil, said the exhibition, held in conjunction with the State-level Sabah Malaysia Day celebration, aims to provide the community, especially the younger generation, with an opportunity to trace the history of Malaysia's formation and appreciate the struggles of past leaders.

"The exhibition features historical artifacts, original documents, old photographs, and important recordings that prove Sabah's role in the formation of Malaysia. These are crucial for disseminating knowledge to the community.

"Furthermore, this exhibition not only highlights historical values but is also hoped to foster a spirit of patriotism and strengthen the public's understanding of the true meaning of Malaysia Day. "The public will have the chance to see wartime weapon artifacts brought specially to this exhibition. It is open to all for free from September 10 to 13, from 8 am to 5 pm.

"Various leisure activities are also provided, including a Merdeka Pop Quiz, Rahmah stalls with affordable food, a P. Ramlee Singing Contest, a Mobile Legends Tournament, a children's colouring contest, and a Scavenger Hunt," she told the media after an interview with Radio UMSfm at the Universiti Malaysia Sabah on Monday.

The exhibition is a collaboration between the Sabah State Archives Department and the Sabah State Museum Department for the State-level Sabah Malaysia Day celebration.

Caroline explained that the climax of the celebration will be the 2025 State-level Sabah Malaysia Day ceremony on September 16 at Padang Merdeka, Kota Kinabalu, starting at 7 pm. It will be attended by the state's top leadership and is open to all citizens.

"Among the main events are the flag-raising ceremony of the Jalur Gemilang, a keynote address by the Chief Minister of Sabah, a montage screening, and a special performance themed Malaysia MADANI: A Caring Society," she said.

She also hopes that the public will attend the exhibition and the official ceremony in large numbers to appreciate history, experience the spirit of togetherness, and ignite national unity under one flag.
