

Best book award

UMS PRESS once again shone at the National Book Awards 2015 by winning the Best Premier Award (Government Agency). The selection process was done by the National Book Awards panel chaired by Datuk Wira Dr Abdul Latif Abu Bakar. The National Book Awards was organised by the National Book Development Foundation, a non-governmental organisation (NGO) established in accordance with the government's desire to develop the reading culture so that Malaysians would always be ahead in information, knowledge and know-how. The National Book Awards is open to all writers, publishers and book industry players to be given due recognition and incentives. For the year 2015, more than 30 categories were introduced. The award presentation ceremony was held on Nov 26 and was officiated by Deputy Prime Minister, Datuk Seri Dr. Ahmad Zahid bin Hamidi, at the Putra World Trade Centre (PWTC) in Kuala Lumpur.
