KOTA KINABALU: Gleneagles Kota Kinabalu (GKK) organised the first North Borneo Vestibular Masterclass in collaboration with Queen Elizabeth Hospital (QEH), University of Malaysia Sabah (UMS), MANSA and Interacoustics on October 1 and 2.

The course was designed for clinicians who are looking to increase their knowledge of vestibular assessment, encompassing functional anatomy, basic physiology, patient history taking, bedside and laboratory examinations.

Speakers for the two-day course comprised of Dr ABM Toffazzal Hossain (Associate Professor and Specialist, Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences, UMS), Dr Win Tin (Associate Professor and Specialist, Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences, UMS), Dr Sreetharan Sivapatha Sundaram (Otorhinolaryngologist, GKK), Dr Siti Nor Asiah bte Zakaria

(Otorhinolaryngologist, QEH), and Dr Michael Maslin (Audiologist and International Clinical Trainer, Interacoustics Academy).

“Dizziness and vertigo are fairly common problems. However, they are often overlooked in terms of diagnosis and treatment. This masterclass aims to educate health providers on the diagnosis and management of vestibular disorders,” said Dr Sreetharan.
