KOTA KINABALU: Some 100 accounts department personnel took part in the Malaysian Public Sector Accounting Standard (MPSAS) Advanced Course, here, recently.

The course was organised by Universiti Malaysia Sabah's (UMS) Bursar Department with the cooperation of UMS' Human Resource Section and Registrar Department.

UMS bursar Zallifah Shadan said the course was a follow-up to MPSAS introductory course held in the campus, last year.

The three-day course aimed to help participants to identify the impacts of the implementation of MPSAS in daily financial operations as well as to assist in the preparation of MPSAS-compliant financial statements.

"Apart from UMS staff, this time the course was participated by personnel from other public universities and agencies like Universiti Malaysia Pahang, Universiti Malaysia Kelantan, Sabah Tourism Board (STB), Sabah Forestry Development Authority (Safoda), Sabah Cultural Board, Sabah Sports Board, Sabah Town and Housing Development Board, and the City Hall," she said in a statement.

The course was conducted by experienced qualified financial planner Ramesh Ruben Louis and Zallifah hoped it will be able to help participants to further understand the application of MPSAS in their respective organisations.
