The purpose of the visit was to brief Kamaruzaman on the programme lined up for the event, which will be launched on Sept 27 in Tawau.

The programme will emphasise on the importance of creativity and innovation among students and teachers, besides being a platform for the teachers to gain personal development skills and oratory skills, among others.

UMS has offered facilities for the opening and closing ceremony of the Sindex 2012, which is anticipated to be held in April next year.
