KOTA KINABALU: A solution to address issues pertaining to inaccuracies in overseas and domestic traveling expenses claims took top honours at this year's Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) fourth annual Kumpulan Inovatif dan Kreatif (KIK) convention.

The solution, created by the TAHAMMAS team, made up of the university's Treasury Department staff, won the convention's Management Category, while the Technical category was won by the RMEC team from the university's Medical and Health Science Faculty, when they created a system to resolve the issue of an unsystematic process in issuing management reports.

When officiating the closing ceremony of the convention, UMS vice chancellor Professor Datuk

Dr Mohd Harun Abdullah said that the programme was part of the university's continuous effort to improve their staff's performance in delivering their respective services to the campus and beyond.

"It's a platform for our staff to assist in identifying and analysing work-related issues through creativity and innovation. This is in line with the nation's aspiration for transformation, particularly in the way our services are delivered to the people," he said.

The programme, he disclosed, had produced numerous contributions and solutions to UMS and beyond. Winning teams from the convention in previous years had also represented the university at the national level, and at the Asia-Pacific region level.
