KOTA KINABALU: Forty students from the Engineering Faculty of Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) collaborated with Shangri-La's Tanjung Aru Beach Resort and Spa to clean up the beach at the resort recently.

According to the Dean of Student Affairs and Engineering Faculty, Professor Madya Dr Nurmin Bolong, the main objective of the activity was to involve the students with the local community and to ensure marine and environmental conservation.

"By ensuring the conservation of marine and the environment, we could reduce pollution at the beach area so that it will always be clean and safe for recreational activities for the public," he said.

Meanwhile, director of Quality Assurance and Social Corporate Responsibility of Shangri-La's Tanjung Aru Beach Resort and Spa, Tulip Noorazyze, said with the collaboration of both parties, the activity could be carried out
