KOTA KINABALU: The young generation can learn more about the history and culture of the communities in Bundu Tuhan through the 'Bundu Tuhan: Konteks dan Transformasi' book.

The book was produced by a group of academicians from Universiti Malaysia Sabah's (UMS) Centre for Promotion of Knowledge and Language Learning (PPIB).

Kudasang assemblyman Datuk Dr Joachim Gunsalam said the book is special for the people of Bundu Tuhan as it highlighted the history of the village and its strength in terms of management, education, tradition and tourism which were not documented formally previously.

"There were small efforts by various quarters to conduct researches on the Bundu Tuhan community but it was not made into a book previously.

"Hence, the documentation of the research findings is extremely valuable and I am sure it will benefit many quarters once it is published," he said during the book launch at Bundu Tuhan community hall, recently.

The book was published by the State Library and funded by Joachim as well as Ranau MP Datuk Dr Ewon Ebin, both of whom are from Bundu Tuhan.

The book was co-written by former PPIB dean Prof Dr Vincent Pang and Assoc Prof Dr Justin Sentian, Assoc Prof Dr Andreas Totu, Dr Dayu Sansalu, Dr Sanen Marshall, Budi Anto Mohd Tamring, Veronica Petrus Atin, Chelster Sherralyn J. Pudin, Nurul Nazirah Hamzah and Nelson Justin Adeh.
