KOTA KINABALU: The Universiti Malaysia Sabah Housewives and Women Staff Club (KESUMBA) will be conducting various programmes this Malaysia Day month to promote the spirit of patriotism.

Its honorary secretary, Stella @ Nurul Martini Control, said that the programmes will incorporate values such as education, patriotism, health, creativity as well as activities for children.

She said that a series of webinars on issues concerning women, education, emotional health, estate management and more, will be carried out.

She disclosed that KESUMBA's Bureau of Information and Communication will be organising a Malaysia Day-themed pantun competition for its members.

"The collection will be included in an e-book which will be distributed to the people of UMS," said Stella in a statement.

"On top of that, KESUMBA will also be organising an art competition, a singing competition, a video-making competition as well as a colouring competition for children to further promote the spirit of patriotism," she added.
