KOTA KINABALU: The vaccination centre at Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) has received contributions to help the workers and volunteers to carry out their work.

Recently, the management of Agrobank through the Agrobank Recreation and Employees Club contributed RM1,000 to the centre.

The contribution was delivered by Agrobank Disbursement Executive, Aisyah Biran to UMS Treatment Centre director Dr Muhammad Syafiq Abdullah at the centre.

Aisyah said that they hoped the contribution will help the workers to ensure the efficiency of the vaccination process.

"This initiative is to ease the local community, including staff of the bank who are in the service sector who need to be vaccinated in the nearest future," she said.

She also said that the facilities at the UMS vaccination centre are orderly and comfortable, and it has helped workers and volunteers in administering vaccine to recipients.

The centre also received contributions in the form of dried food and drinks for the workers.

They were presented by Datin Norlizah Awang Ahmad, wife of Sepanggar member of parliament Datuk Azis Jamman at the Kompleks Dewan Kulaih Pusat Ke-2 which is the site for the vaccination centre.

The centre has given 1,806 doses of vaccine to the local community since its opening on June 14.
